When we first opened our doors for business 70 years ago, most of our customers were local traders and merchants. Since then, Thailand's economy has gradually developed, changing from an agricultural-based kingdom to a complex modern economy, while many of the small businesses of yesterday have become major regional multinationals today. Although times have changed, one thing that hasn't is our commitment to support our customers as 'puan koo kit mit koo baan'.

SUPPORTING CUSTOMERS TO ENTER A NEW ERA

Over the past seven decades we have worked alongside our customers, together building a shared vision. Thanks to the drive and inspiration of many people over the generations, we are now Thailand's biggest bank and a major regional bank, helping our customers to flourish and prepare for an era of regional integration, as the countries of ASEAN join together to form a single community, the AEC.

ALWAYS HERE FOR YOU

Together ▶ From Generation, To Generation

Happy families are vital for a country's well-being. By providing support and security to families we believe we can help Thailand build a harmonious future. We share the experience and knowledge we've gained through helping different generations with their financial needs, so that each Thai family can be well-prepared for their life journey.

TEACHING FINANCIAL LITERACY

Our 'Family Banking project' teaches financial literacy to Thai families so they can confidently support themselves in the future. We organize events throughout the country which are addressed by experts from the Bangkok Bank 'family' – Bangkok Bank, Bualuang Securities, BBL Asset Management, Bangkok Life Assurance and Bangkok Insurance. Speakers share their expertise, teach skills in areas such as financial discipline and money management, and provide practical advice about budgetary and financial matters.

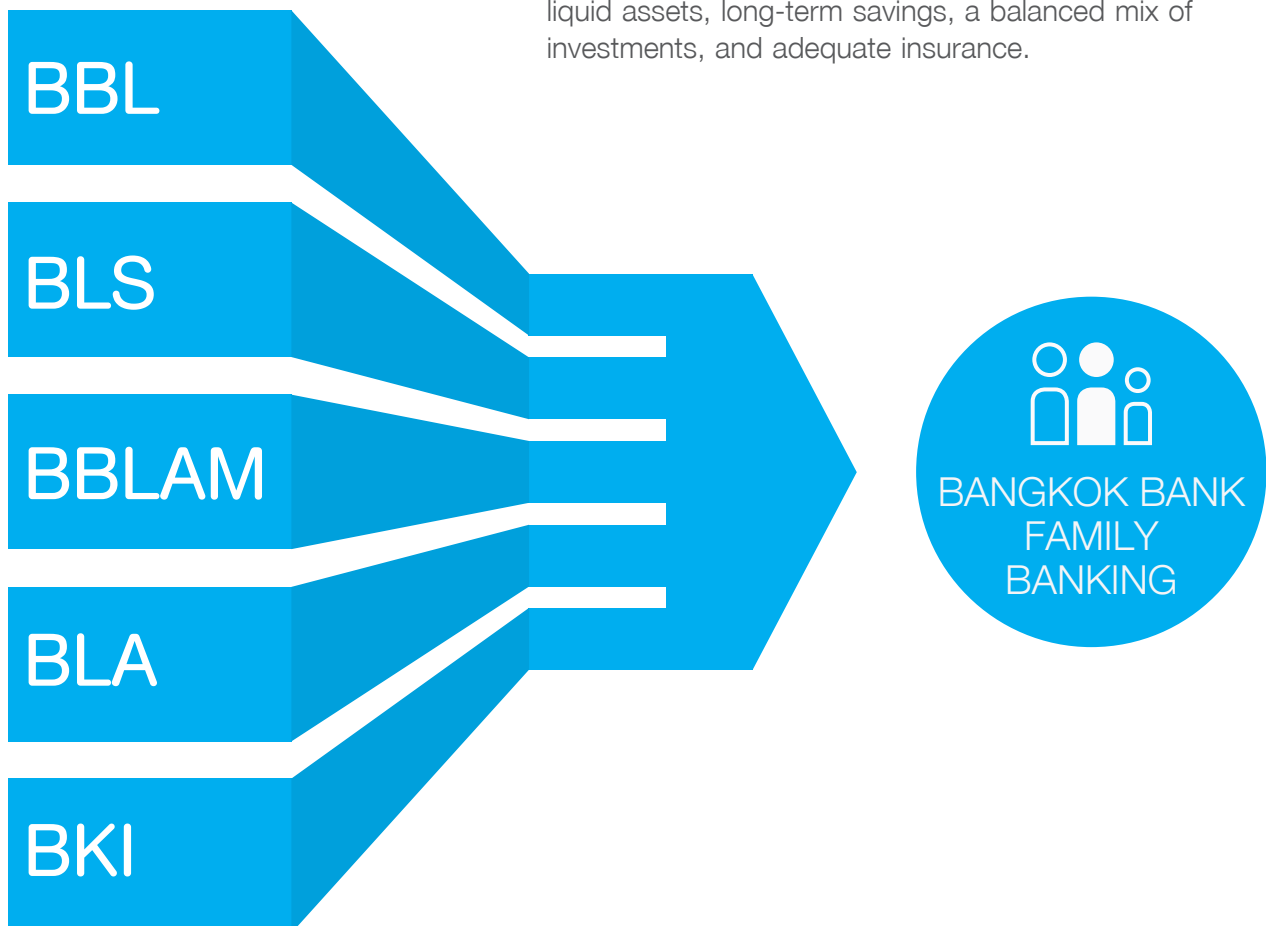

Supporting Families

Bringing up a family requires a lot of skill, especially in times of rapid social change when we are experiencing rapid urbanization, digitalization and regionalization. By teaching financial skills to Thai people we ensure they are well-prepared, not only for today's challenges but also for those they will face in the years ahead.

Meeting All Your Needs

A sound financial budget will include emergency cash, liquid assets, long-term savings, a balanced mix of investments, and adequate insurance.

Bualuang Family Banking Seminars

For the past two years Bangkok Bank, together with other members of the Bangkok Bank group, has hosted a series of seminars across the country, chaired by our Executive Chairman Kosit Panpiemras. His concept was that people need to save enough to ensure their families are well-prepared for every situation: "It is prudent to have liquidity, protection against risk for everyone in the family, and investments that will provide suitable returns in the long-run".

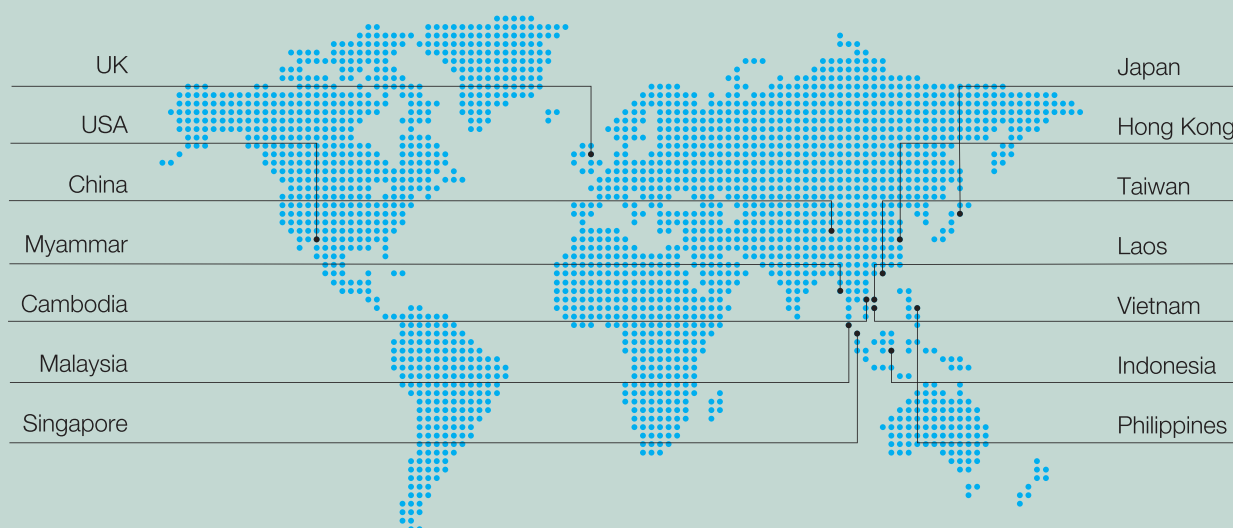

Together ► From Here, To Everywhere

From humble beginnings Bangkok Bank has grown and prospered and is now a major regional player helping customers expand across the globe. We provide support for direct investments, acquisitions and trade services, especially for customers with international business interests in Southeast Asia.

BANGKOK BANK IS READY FOR THE AEC

As the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) takes shape in 2015, Bangkok Bank, as Thailand's truly regional bank, is well-positioned to tap into the region's growth. We have a large and well-established network throughout the region and are very active in the fast-growing CLMV countries (Cambodia, Laos, Myanmar and Vietnam) which have the best growth potential in the region. We were the only Thai bank to receive a preliminary license to commence banking operations in Myanmar, where we have had a representative branch for 20 years. Our first Myanmar branch will open in Yangon in 2015, and then we will have branches in 9 out of 10 countries in the AEC.

Bangkok Bank continues to support the preservation of Thai arts and culture as they are the key foundations of society. Their beauty and uniqueness reflect an ancient heritage and provide a sense of togetherness and a spiritual base.

ARTS AND CULTURAL HERITAGE

Our support for all aspects of the arts is evidenced by our flagship Bangkok Bank Musical Art Center, which was founded more than 35 years ago as a living repository of knowledge, enabling young performers and skilled masters to create artworks and performances that preserve ancient traditions as well as develop contemporary skills in the performing arts.

"The Bualuang Painting Competition opens the door for new artists to gain national and international recognition. I received acknowledgement and gained more confidence after I won first prize in the third Bualuang Painting Competition in 1977."

Mr. Chalermchai Kositpipat
National Artist

"Helping to sustain Thailand's unique culture is a way of encouraging young people to enjoy the strength of their Thai identity."

Mr. Apichart Ramyarupa
Corporate Secretary

Inspiration and Stimulation

Thailand's depth of riches in arts and culture provides a great source of inspiration and pride and animates every aspect of our lives. This is an important strength that will help stimulate innovation and creativity in the future.

Creating Masterpieces

Bangkok Bank inaugurated the Bualuang Painting Competition in 1974 to help maintain Thai arts and culture by supporting new artists to develop their talents. In 2012 the Bualuang Foundation introduced the Bualuang Crafts Competition to preserve Thailand's heritage crafts and encourage the work of talented artisans.

Bualuang Foundation

Bangkok Bank is a leading patron of the arts in Thailand. In 1976 we established the Bangkok Bank Foundation, later renamed the Bualuang Foundation, which supports the full spectrum of arts including painting, literature, crafts, performance and music. Many award-winning artists have achieved great recognition and gone on to enjoy highly successful careers, with some becoming globally-recognized artists.

Supporting Talented Artists

Southeast Asian Writers Awards (S.E.A. Write Awards)

The Southeast Asian Writers Awards (S.E.A. Write Awards) were founded in 1979 with strong support from the late Prince Prem Purachatra, one of Thailand's prominent literary figures. The awards recognize the literary achievements of writers in Southeast Asian countries and have been supported by Bangkok Bank since 1984. During their 36 years of operations, the awards have become well-recognized and are highly regarded in literary societies around the world due to the excellent standards of the winning works. The award-winners are selected by The Writers' Association of Thailand in collaboration with P.E.N. International Thailand-Centre Under The Royal Patronage of H.M. The King.

Angkarn Chanthathip: Thailand's S.E.A. Write Award Winner

Angkarn Chanthathip's poetry book 'Hua Chai Hong Thi Ha' (The Fifth Chamber of the Heart) was named Thailand's winner of the S.E.A Write Awards 2013. His talent is evident in his many outstanding books of poems such as 'Khon Rak Kong Kwam Sao' (Lover of Sadness) and 'Wiman Long Daeng' (Agony in Paradise), which won the National Book Award in 2004. His 'Tee Tee Rao Yuen Yu' (Where We Stand) was shortlisted for the S.E.A Write Awards in 2007 and his 'Hontang Lae Teepakping' (The Road and Shelter) won the National Book Award in 2010. Angkarn is also the recipient of numerous other major awards including: 'Seang Kob Pu Kao Bon Thanon Kaosarn' (Crying of Blyth's Mountain Frog on Kaosarn Road) which won the Best Poetry Award in 2011 from P.E.N. International Thailand-Centre Under The Royal Patronage of H.M. The King, 'Kwam Tai Kong Santisuk' (Death of Peace) which won the Best Poetry category in the Naiin Awards 2011, and 'Ban Mai Me Krai Yu' (In the Home of the Homeless) which won the Best Poetry category in the Naiin Awards 2013.

Message from the Chairman

The year under review was a special one for Bangkok Bank as we celebrated our 70th year of operations. From humble beginnings we have pioneered, fostered and expanded our banking services, both locally and internationally, with one focus in mind – to grow with our customers.

Throughout these seven decades, our Bualuang spirit of “puan koo kit mit koo baan” (aspiring to be a trusted partner and reliable close friend) has never wavered, enabling us to enjoy our own successes alongside those of our customers, shareholders and communities.

So it proved in 2014 when we posted our fifth consecutive year of record profits, despite a sluggish domestic economy and a difficult international environment. While Thailand's GDP grew by less than 1 percent, we increased our total lending by 1.7 percent and our deposits by 6.4 percent. Our net profit was Baht 36.3 billion, representing earnings per share of Baht 18.8. Our balance sheet remained strong, with our capital ratios comfortably exceeding the prescribed levels.

With a brighter economic outlook for Thailand in 2015, the Bank is looking forward to further growth.

Internationally, 2014 marked 60 years since the opening of Hong Kong Branch, our first overseas branch, which was also the first time a Thai bank had ventured offshore. The foresight of our founders has been rewarded many times over in subsequent decades as we have continued to follow our customers across East and Southeast Asia, growing our network to meet the needs of their expanding operations.

In 2014 our wholly-owned subsidiary, Bangkok Bank (China), opened its fifth and sixth branches, in Chongqing and Shanghai's Free Trade Zone, respectively. We also opened a branch in Phnom Penh, lifting our total number of international branches to 29, plus a representative office in Myanmar. In 2015 we plan to upgrade to branch status in Myanmar after becoming the only Thai bank, and one of nine foreign banks in total, to be awarded preliminary approval for such a move.

The year 2015, will culminate in the much-anticipated formation of the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC), which will bring further opportunities for Thailand and for our customers.

Meanwhile, the Bank has continued to support its communities and Thai society in general with a wide range of corporate social responsibility (CSR) initiatives covering economic, environmental and social concerns. We have also supported government and private-sector anti-corruption measures. The Bank strongly believes that organizations that give back to society will achieve long-term sustainable growth.

As always, the Board of Directors and I owe a great debt to the bank's shareholders, customers and business partners who supported the Bank throughout the year. Our gratitude also extends to the Bank's management and staff who worked hard to ensure customers received the best possible service. All of us who together make up the Bangkok Bank family are dedicated to repeating these efforts in 2015 and bringing further success to our stakeholders and our communities, and contributing to Thailand's ongoing prosperity.

CHATRI SOPHONPANICH

Chairman

IN 2014 WE POSTED OUR
FIFTH CONSECUTIVE YEAR
OF RECORD PROFITS,
DESPITE A SLUGGISH
DOMESTIC ECONOMY AND A DIFFICULT INTERNATIONAL
ENVIRONMENT.

70 YEARS

From humble beginnings we have pioneered, fostered and expanded our banking services, both locally and internationally, with one focus in mind – to grow with our customers.

Message from the Chairman of the Board of Executive Directors

Thailand's economy struggled in 2014 due to a combination of factors, including sluggish export growth, delays in public spending, and lackluster domestic consumption. Full-year growth was less than 1 percent, although an improvement in the fourth quarter pointed to a better year ahead.

Domestically, there is a great opportunity looming with the government's spending plans for new and upgraded infrastructure through 2022. This includes revamping the rail network to a dual-track system, improving public transport in Bangkok, developing national highways to improve connectivity within Thailand and with neighboring countries, and improving the efficiency of waterways and air transport.

The funding is likely to be raised in various ways, including infrastructure funds and investment via public-private partnerships. Bangkok Bank, as the largest lender to Thai corporates and SMEs, is ready to provide financial support to our customers as soon as the government begins to implement these plans.

We are also seeking to capitalize on growth opportunities offered by increasing urbanization and digitalization in accordance with the government's policy.

Internationally, the greatest opportunities will come through the full implementation of the ASEAN Economic Community (AEC) at the end of 2015.

For larger Thai companies, AEC integration predominantly means opportunities for investing and for mergers and acquisitions. For Thai SMEs, the greatest opportunities are in trade between Thailand and its near neighbors – the Mekong countries of Cambodia, Laos, Myanmar and Vietnam – plus the establishment of production facilities in these countries. Bangkok Bank is ready to support these companies in terms of necessary information, financial services and loans as the Bank will have full coverage with its branch network in these countries in 2015 to provide them with trade facilities and further increases in their working capital and production capacity.

However, nothing can be taken for granted. Many Thai businesses, for example, will need to improve their efficiencies and capabilities through better cost management, focusing on high-value products, to capture as many benefits as possible from greater access to the AEC's 600 million consumers.

This presents great opportunities for Bangkok Bank, as the only Thai regional bank, to provide high-quality advice and service to customers to leverage these opportunities.

Domestically, Thailand faces long-term structural challenges of high household debt, persistent income inequality and an ageing population supported by a declining workforce.

In light of these challenges, the National Economic and Social Development Board (NESDB) and related agencies agreed on three strategies for the next 20 years covering the upgrading of Thailand's workforce capability and production efficiency, adopting high technology in the agricultural sector and developing a knowledge-based economy.

Bangkok Bank, as a responsible corporate citizen, is committed to playing its part in achieving these goals, working alongside its customers and communities. These initiatives include our Modern Agriculture Project which in 2014 completed its 16th consecutive year, sharing knowledge, new technologies and innovative techniques with farmers and those in agricultural industries, to help them improve the quality of their products and management practices, lower their production costs, and improve their marketing so customers can be more self-reliant. At the same time, we also continued to provide loans at attractive interest rates for agricultural entrepreneurs looking to invest in technology to improve their agricultural efficiency and income.

DOMESTICALLY, THERE IS A GREAT OPPORTUNITY LOOMING WITH THE GOVERNMENT'S SPENDING PLANS FOR NEW AND UPGRADED INFRASTRUCTURE THROUGH 2022.

SMEs - The Backbone of Thailand's Economy

Million SMEs

In addition, we continued to promote financial literacy among different generations of families with the second year of our Family Banking series. The Bank hosted educational seminars in provincial centers to promote understanding about sustainable money management, joining with members of Bangkok Bank's own family – our subsidiaries and partners Bualuang Securities, BBL Asset Management, Bangkok Insurance and Bangkok Life Assurance.

We are confident that this united approach to servicing the group's customers will encourage the virtues of working together, in business and in society. As we head into another year of challenges and opportunities at home and abroad, Bangkok Bank looks forward to maintaining its leading role in the industry and its valuable contributions to Thailand's economy and society.

Management Report

BANGKOK BANK CONTINUES TO BE THE MARKET LEADER IN KEY BUSINESS AREAS, INCLUDING CORPORATE AND SME BANKING. ALTHOUGH THE GREATER COMPETITION CONTINUES TO BE FROM DOMESTIC BANKS, THE PRESENCE OF FOREIGN BANKS IS GROWING AS THEY ARE ATTRACTED BY THE EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITIES THAT LIE AHEAD FOR THAILAND AND THE REGION.

Despite a sharp slowdown in Thailand's economic growth in 2014 Bangkok Bank performed well, achieving its 5th consecutive year of record net profit at Baht 36.3 billion, an increase of Baht 426 million or 1.2 percent from 2013.

A major highlight of the year was the increasing international focus of Thai companies, with many of our large corporate customers growing to become major regional and international players. Our SME customers were also part of this trend, with many moving to establish new production facilities in neighboring countries. To help clients with their expansion plans, we tapped into our expertise as Thailand's leading regional bank, our extensive international branch network, and decades of experience in regional markets.

In 2014 we further expanded our branch network by opening 40 domestic branches, mainly in provincial areas. For our international network, we opened three new branches in high-growth areas: two branches in China, in Chongqing and Shanghai's Free Trade Zone, and one branch in Cambodia, in Phnom Penh. Our extensive domestic and international branch network coverage supports our business and consumer customers and we are able to offer new products and services to all customer segments.

During the year we made good progress in offering many new services and products, especially via electronic channels, while improving our service efficiency and adding more benefits for customers. At the same time we introduced new designs and improvements in our branches and business centers to meet the needs of our target customers, and hosted various activities to expand our customer base, especially amongst the younger generation. We also introduced new ways to promote our services and enhance the customer experience such as launching 3-D animated stickers via the popular LINE application.

We supported clients' need for long-term and cost-effective funding for their business growth by raising funds from the debt and equity capital markets as an alternative to loans.

Throughout the year our business units and subsidiaries worked closely together to add value to our customers, supporting them to tap into new business opportunities, and achieve sustainable growth during the challenging economic times.

Management Discussion and Analysis

THE PHILOSOPHY THAT HAS GUIDED OUR BUSINESS FOR THE PAST 70 YEARS IS ENCAPSULATED IN OUR MOTTO ‘PUAN KOO KIT MIT KOO BAAN’, WHICH MEANS THAT WE ASPIRE TO BE A TRUSTED PARTNER AND RELIABLE CLOSE FRIEND TO OUR CUSTOMERS. THIS EMPHASIZES THE CONCEPT OF PARTNERSHIP, AND DEVELOPING LONG-TERM, TRUSTED RELATIONSHIPS WITH OUR CUSTOMERS, SUSTAINING RELATIONSHIPS OVER THE DECADES AND ACROSS THE GENERATIONS.

OVERVIEW OF THE ECONOMY AND BANKING INDUSTRY

Thai Economy in 2014

Thailand's economy grew slowly in 2014, with GDP rising by only 0.7 percent from the previous year, lower than the growth of 2.9 percent in 2013. The main culprit was political uncertainty in the first half of the year, which caused a delay in investment from the private and government sectors, especially government investment in large infrastructure projects, while household debts remained high and continued to climb. Consequently, private consumption was very sluggish. Meanwhile, Thailand's export performance disappointed with a 0.3 percent contraction from the previous year due to problems with the economic recovery in some areas of the world such as the European Union (EU), China and Japan, as well as the decline in commodity prices. The number of foreign tourists also declined, by 6.7 percent, although there were signs of improvement in the second half of the year after an easing in political tensions.

Overall domestic prices remained stable. Headline and core inflation were 1.9 and 1.6 percent, respectively. The decline in headline inflation from 2.2 percent in the previous year was due mainly to a fall in retail oil prices in global markets and lower domestic demand. Liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) prices were kept under control as lower fuel costs reduced the costs of LPG production. The Thai baht averaged 32.48 THB/USD for the year, depreciating from 30.74 THB/USD in the previous year, a movement that was broadly in line with those of other major Asian currencies. This was caused by an increase in net capital outflows from the region due to the end of the US Federal Reserve's Quantitative Easing (QE) program and the slower growth of major Asian economies.

In response to concerns about the risks to the country's economic growth from political uncertainty during the first half of the year and the slow and uneven nature of the global economic recovery, the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) in March 2014 cut the policy interest rate by 25 basis points to 2.0 percent per annum.

Looking forward, the Thai economy in 2015 is expected to expand by 3-4 percent, mainly driven by the acceleration of government budget disbursements and spending on infrastructure development projects which will also spur private-sector investment. Other positive factors are improving tourism trends and falling retail oil prices; combined, these should support a recovery in domestic demand, along with the upcoming ASEAN Economic Community (AEC), due for implementation in late 2015, although there are many downside risks ahead. Major risks include the likely increase in the volatility of the Thai baht, as the world's major central banks have adopted different monetary policies – for example, the European Central Bank (ECB) and the Bank of Japan (BOJ) are intensifying their QE policies, leading to the depreciation of the euro and the yen against the US dollar. Meanwhile, the recovery of the global economy will likely face expansion risks for a while due to the uncertain outlook for the European economy, especially given the latest conflict between the EU and the new Greek government regarding economic policy, the unrest in Ukraine, and China's slowing economic growth. Additionally, while falling world oil prices will benefit domestic consumers and the business sector, they could lessen Thailand's exports to oil-producing countries. Continuing low agricultural prices in global markets will result in Thai farmers experiencing another year of disappointing incomes. The delays in government spending and ongoing high household debt are downside risks that could hinder the recovery of domestic demand.

Thai Banking Industry in 2014

The performance of commercial banks registered in Thailand in the first half of 2014 was subdued due to low domestic economic growth caused by political uncertainty and a disappointing recovery in the global economy. The commercial banks' performance gradually recovered in the second half due to an improving economic situation, easing political pressures and a rise in confidence in the household and business sectors.

Considering the balance sheets of the commercial banks in aggregate, loans and deposits grew by 4.5 and 6.6 percent, respectively, compared with growth in 2013 of 10.6 and 9.7 percent. The competition for deposits intensified in the last quarter of 2014 due to the domestic economy starting to recover, anticipation about government infrastructure projects, and increasing investment demand from the private sector. Deposits grew more than loans, leading to higher liquidity in the banking system as indicated by the Loan-to-Deposit Ratio (LDR) falling to 94.6 percent from the previous year's 96.4 percent.

Looking ahead to 2015, commercial banks are likely to improve their performance as economic growth accelerates. Greater infrastructure investment spending and increasing private investment demand, especially in infrastructure-related sectors, will boost the banking sector's lending growth while tightening liquidity. However, an improving current account balance due to falling oil import prices and the likelihood of some capital inflows because of QE implementation by the ECB and the BOJ will help boost liquidity. Given this overall environment, banks will continue to be vigilant in their liquidity management to protect themselves against risks as capital flows could become even more volatile. In addition, increasing loan demand may lead to more intense competition for deposits in the banking system. There will be risks from a changing legal environment as well. The latest Amendments to the Civil and Commercial Code related to Suretyship and Mortgages, set to take effect in February 2015, could affect banks' credit-approval processes. Moreover, changes to the bills related to the Digital Economy may affect commercial banks' business conduct and customer information.

Factors Affecting Bank Performance

Over the next five years, Thailand's economy will be affected by three megatrends, which will bring both opportunities and challenges.

1. Regionalization: The integration of Asia, and in particular the establishment of the AEC in the later part of 2015, will be the key factor driving trade and investment growth in the region. The AEC will attract more investment from North Asian countries as well as from countries outside Asia. These closer linkages will enable ASEAN and Asia to play greater roles in the global economy. The Thai government has prepared for this regionalization with plans for large-scale transport and logistics infrastructure developments, for example dual-track and new standard-gauge railway projects that aim to upgrade both physical and non-physical connectivity with neighboring countries and China. The completion of this infrastructure development will provide Thailand with the potential to become a regional transport and logistics hub, and the center for regional supply-chain manufacturing in the future.
2. Urbanization: Rapid economic growth in the provinces suggests these areas will be a major source of the country's future economic growth. Trade and investment in large provinces in Thailand as well as major cities that serve as AEC connectors are likely to expand dramatically from the regionalization of the AEC. This development will lead to higher provincial household incomes, higher purchases of goods and services, and increased demand for more sophisticated financial services. As a result, these provinces will be a major source of deposits and commercial banks will need to review their strategies for developing their products and services. Ideally, these should be customized to meet the specific demands of different regions. Banks should reconsider their channels, both branch and non-branch, so that customers are able to access services with greater ease, convenience and security.
3. Digitalization: Digital technology has played an increasing role in the economy in recent years, as shown by the rapid growth of e-commerce, mobile devices, and electronic payments and transactions. It has reshaped the ways in which governments carry out their administration and firms conduct their business, as well as people's lifestyles. Competition and linkages between economic units have also changed. The appropriate use of digital technology will boost customer convenience and reduce the costs of doing business and so banks are focusing on developing digital products and channels – so-called 'Digital Banking' – in response to changes in people's lifestyles and business conduct.

These are all part of our core mission. We also take a long-term view of business, aiming to help our customers thrive across business cycles while assisting them to strongly adapt to the changing environment.

The weaker Thai economy in 2014 presented a challenge to many small-business operators, especially those exposed to lower commodity prices and affected by lower levels of consumer spending. Performance and Highlights

We successfully strengthened our competitive position in the face of intense competition. Housing loans increased by 12.3 percent and deposits grew by 6.4 percent.

In 2014 we continued to encourage our debit-card customers who still hold the earlier magnetic-stripe cards to shift to these more secure cards.

In addition, we have the only ATM network in Thailand that is fully secure and able to read EMV-chip cards, having completed our upgrade since 2013. Under Bank of Thailand requirements, Thai commercial banks will have to upgrade their networks before 2016.

We also introduced new promotions and services for our contactless Be1st Smart Rabbit debit and Rabbit Bangkok Bank credit card. We also introduced a new branch design in the newest luxury shopping mall, Central Embassy, which has a unique interior and atmosphere with a special corner providing investment knowledge for targeted customers.

We collaborated with the Stock Exchange of Thailand and our subsidiary BBLAM to develop a wealth-management training program focused on financial planning. In 2014, using these methodologies, we trained over 1,000 staff as financial advisors. In addition to helping our own customers to develop savings plans and financial strategies based on their life plans, we hosted the Family Banking educational roadshows and other events such as Money Expo and SET in the City, and visited companies to provide this service to their employees.

Bangkok Bank and its subsidiaries reported a consolidated net profit of Baht 36.3 billion for 2014, an increase of Baht 426 million or 1.2 percent from 2013. Net interest income rose by Baht 3.1 billion or 5.6 percent while non-interest income grew by Baht 2.3 billion or 6.4 percent. Operating expenses increased by Baht 5.1 billion or 13.5 percent.

During 2014, Thailand's economy recovered more slowly than expected due to a contraction in exports in line with the state of the global economy – especially the slowdown in the economies of trading partners such as Europe, China and Japan – and to lower-than-expected government spending. Thailand also faced political problems during the first half of the year and household debt levels remained high. As a result, businesses scaled back their investment and households reduced their spending, and these negative factors impacted on loan demand from the Bank. For the year ending December 2014, total lending was Baht 1,782.2 billion, an increase of Baht 29.6 billion or 1.7 percent from the end of December 2013.

However, loan demand improved in the fourth quarter, rising by 2.3 percent from the third quarter of 2014, the highest increase in the past four quarters. Fourth-quarter growth was spurred by every customer segment – Corporate, SME, Consumer and International.

Loan quality remained good – at the end of December 2014, non-performing loans (NPLs) were Baht 45.0 billion, a decrease of Baht 1.1 billion from the end of September 2014, while the ratio of non-performing loans to total loans was 2.1 percent, compared to 2.3 percent at the end of September 2014. The ratio of loan loss reserves to NPLs rose to 204.1 percent and the ratio of loan loss reserves to total loans was 5.2 percent.

To ensure adequate liquidity to meet the financing needs of its customers in a cost-effective manner, the Bank increased its deposits throughout the year. As a result, at the end of December 2014, total deposits were Baht 2,058.8 billion, an increase of Baht 123.5 billion or 6.4 percent from the end of 2013. The loan-to-deposit ratio stood at 86.6 percent, a decrease from 90.6 percent at the end of December 2013. The net interest margin remained at approximately the same level as 2013 at 2.37 percent.

In 2014, the Bank's total income was Baht 96.9 billion, an increase of 5.9 percent from the previous year. Net interest income was Baht 59.0 billion, an increase of 5.6 percent. Non-interest income was Baht 37.9 billion, an increase of Baht 2.3 billion or 6.4 percent from 2013, due predominantly to increases in net fees and service income, gains on investment, and dividend income.

The Bank's operating expenses were Baht 43.1 billion, an increase of Baht 5.1 billion or 13.5 percent from 2013, mainly due to investments to increase the Bank's competitiveness such as improving operating efficiency and personnel.

In terms of capital, after the inclusion of net profit for the six months ending December 31, 2014, total capital adequacy ratio, common equity Tier 1 ratio and Tier 1 capital ratio of the Bank and its subsidiaries would be 18.32 percent, 16.01 percent and 16.02 percent, respectively.

Shareholders' equity as of December 31, 2014 amounted to Baht 323.5 billion, equivalent to 11.7 percent of total assets. The book value per share was Baht 169.47, an increase of Baht 14.44 from the end of 2013.

Risk Factors and Risk Management

THE BANK HAS CONTINUOUSLY ANALYZED MAJOR RISK FACTORS WHICH COULD AFFECT ITS FINANCIAL OPERATIONS AND, WHERE NECESSARY, HAS ADJUSTED ITS ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE AND RISK MANAGEMENT PROCESSES ACCORDINGLY. THIS IS TO ENSURE THAT ITS RISK MANAGEMENT SYSTEM IS EFFECTIVE AND IN LINE WITH INTERNATIONAL STANDARDS.

Bangkok Bank recognizes that effective risk management is fundamental to good banking practice. Accordingly, the Bank has established guidelines for managing risk in each area of its business to ensure that it has effective risk management mechanisms in place.

Over the past few years, the Bank has continuously analyzed major risk factors which could affect its financial operations and, where necessary, has adjusted its organizational structure and risk management processes accordingly. This is to ensure that its risk management system is effective and in line with international standards and in accordance with the principles of Basel II and Basel III.

The Risk Management Committee, the Board of Executive Directors and the senior management all play significant roles in prescribing and reviewing the sufficiency of the risk management policy and system. They also define the risk management strategy, and monitor and control the Bank's risk to be at an appropriate level, in compliance with the risk management policy approved by the Board of Directors.

The Bank's risk management process comprises the identification of significant risks which may potentially impact the Bank's business operations, the assessment of each type of risk, the monitoring and control of risks to an appropriate level, and the reporting of the status of each type of risk to the relevant parties so as to enable them to manage and/or handle the risks in a timely manner.

The key principle of risk management is based on each business unit being responsible for continuously managing its relevant risk exposures and ensuring each risk stays within the approved limits and is in compliance with the overall risk management policy approved by the Board of Directors, while the Risk Management Division is responsible for monitoring and controlling the overall risks on a regular basis.

The operating environment and major risks that may affect the operations of the Bank, as well as the Bank's management of these risks, are as follows.

1) UNCERTAINTIES IN THE DOMESTIC AND GLOBAL ECONOMY CONTINUE TO RESTRICT GROWTH

The uncertain and uneven nature of the global economic recovery posed a key risk to business operations in 2014. The economic recovery in the US was robust and solid as many headwinds since the financial crisis had been brought under control, while the unemployment rate fell rapidly and financial institutions' balance sheets continued to improve. Meanwhile, the European Union's economic recovery remained uncertain and fragile. Economic growth in Germany and France – the EU's major economies – weakened, while concerns grew over the continued slowing in the rate of inflation. This condition could drag the EU into stagnation in the near term. The Japanese economy shrank after the government raised the consumption tax in April, with the higher tax rate having more impact on private consumption and investment than expected, while exports remained sluggish. China's economy also grew at a slower pace, partly due to a change in the government's focus towards a rebalancing policy. This policy brought many risks, including a slowdown in the real-estate sector, shadow banking problems and high local government debt.

China's slower economic growth is a key risk to the global economic recovery. During the past decade, China has developed into the largest importer of commodities and the fastest-growing consumer market. Hence, decelerating growth in China led to declines in world commodity prices, which consequently pulled down the economic growth of commodity exporters and manufacturing producers.

Dealing with the divergent growth trends across the world's economies has required different economic policies, particularly monetary policies. The US economy's robust growth prompted the US Federal Reserve to normalize its monetary policy, ending its Quantitative Easing (QE) measures in October 2014 and preparing to raise the federal funds rate around mid-2015. In contrast, the European Central Bank (ECB) and the Bank of Japan continue to lean towards easing their monetary policies. The ECB is expected to use QE in early 2015 due to weaker economic growth and falling inflation. This policy conflict could lead to a higher risk of financial market volatility across the globe in 2015. In addition, currency risks could intensify in countries that possess vulnerabilities, especially high current account deficits and/or high external debt to foreign currency reserve ratios, such as Turkey, Argentina, Indonesia, India and South Africa.

Geopolitical risks in 2014 included the conflict between Western countries and Russia over the latter's intervention in Ukraine, which led to economic sanctions against Russia by the US and the EU. Both the EU and Russian economies are likely to be affected by the sanctions. The situation in the Middle East poses a further geopolitical risk, with a recent threat being the emergence of Islamic State (IS), which is trying to occupy the region and establish a caliphate ruled by Islamic Law. This turmoil has so far affected the world economy only slightly, and has not been strong enough to force up oil prices.

Falling commodity prices, particularly for crude oil, should benefit oil-importing countries, boosting domestic demand and improving current account balances. But they will have a negative impact on oil-exporting countries. Countries with higher ratios of oil revenue to total revenue (high oil dependency) could experience the greatest losses and some could suffer an economic crisis. Russia is the country most at risk, experiencing declining oil revenues, economic sanctions by Western countries, and investor capital flight. These factors caused Russia's rouble to nearly collapse in late 2014, and the country might be further impacted if low oil prices persist through most of 2015.

The Thai economy is expected to recover moderately, given the political situation appears to have stabilized. The key economic driver will be the government's infrastructure investments. However, key risks are uncertainties surrounding the global economic recovery, global financial market volatility due to conflicting monetary policies among major central banks, geopolitical tension in Europe and the Middle East, tumbling world agricultural prices, high household debt, and delays in government budget disbursements.

2) REGULATORY CHANGES

► Principles of the Basel III Framework.

The Bank of Thailand has revised its regulatory capital requirements according to the Basel III framework issued by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (BCBS), which covers regulatory capital requirements and liquidity risk management standards.

Since January 1, 2013, the Bank of Thailand's regulatory capital framework has required banks to have more capital, in both quantitative and qualitative terms, to support losses that may occur in normal times and in stressed times, and to maintain the stability of the financial system. Significant revisions in capital requirements are: a new minimum capital ratio, an increase in the quality of capital, and an expansion of the coverage of risk weighted assets so that they are more comprehensive and reflect real risks. The revisions include the requirement to maintain a Capital Conservation Buffer, which will be phased in from January 1, 2016 and is due for completion by January 1, 2019.

Apart from the regulatory capital requirements mentioned above, the Bank of Thailand has issued calculation guidelines for leverage ratio aimed at restricting leverage, and also requires commercial banks to report liquidity risk measurements in accordance with the Basel III framework to prepare for the adoption of appropriate liquidity standards for Thailand.

The Bank has studied, prepared itself, and continually assessed the quantitative impact of compliance with these pending Basel III guidelines.

► New or Revised Financial Reporting Standards

The Bank's financial statements have been, and will be, prepared under the new and revised Thai Financial Reporting Standards (TFRS), which were adopted by the Federation of Accounting Professions (FAP) in accordance with IFRS. The financial reporting standards that relate to the Bank, which will take effect in 2015, are newly issued or amendments which will be more current with the IFRS; there are no significant changes to the principles. The main issue is the new standard of TFRS13 Fair Value Measurement, which establishes a single framework for measuring fair value previously mentioned in individual accounting standards, and sets up pertinent disclosure requirements.

The Bank has prepared for the implementation of the accounting standards with appropriate management, accounting policies and processes.

3) CREDIT RISK

Credit risk is the risk that arises from the inability of borrowers or counterparties to perform their obligations under contractual agreements in relation to the Bank's lending, investment and other contractual commitments – for example, the borrower's failure to repay principal and/or interest as agreed with the Bank.

Credit risk factors are those factors which may affect the ability of borrowers to fully repay loans, and include factors which may affect the Bank's ability to resolve non-performing loans.

The Thai economy has been affected by the country's instability and, on the demand side, by the ending of fiscal stimulus policies. Export growth has also been sluggish recently, due to the situation in advanced economies and a slowdown in China. Additionally, Thailand's exports have tended to lose their competitiveness in the global market by failing to respond to the changing needs of the market and their heavy reliance on labor, which may be in short supply in the future.

The outlook for the Thai economy in 2015 is for the beginning of a recovery from the previous year but there are several factors that need to be taken into account. One is the government's national reform policy, especially the reform of the supply side of the economy that will require ongoing support and time. Moreover, the Thai economy is likely to face different risks from the fall in commodity prices and the high level of household debt that is putting strong pressure on private consumption. Other risks include a rebalancing of the global financial system affecting capital flows, liquidity and interest rates.

Given all of these, the Bank must therefore closely monitor the risks that might adversely affect debtors and counterparties. This is because the repayment ability of some borrowers might be lessened due to tighter liquidity and rising interest rates, especially borrowers who are weaker financially and/or more vulnerable to the risk factors. Furthermore, several major laws will be enforced in 2015 resulting in higher credit risk both at customer and collateral levels.

In managing credit risk, the Bank has established credit underwriting processes which include the formulation of credit policy, credit risk ratings for customers, and the establishment of different levels of delegation of authority for credit approval, depending upon the type of business and/or the size of the credit line. In considering the approval of loans in general, the Bank considers the purpose of the loan and assesses the repayment ability of the applicant, taking into account the applicant's operating cash flows, business feasibility, management capability, and collateral coverage. The Bank performs credit reviews which include reviewing credit risk ratings on a regular basis. In order to effectively monitor and manage its credit risks, the Bank has therefore set up the following divisions.

- Risk Management Division is responsible for analyzing and reporting to management on the status of various risks of the Bank, as well as proposing recommendations for the review of the overall risk policy of the Bank in anticipation of, and in compliance with, new rules, regulations and international standards. The division is also responsible for overseeing the management of each type of risk to comply with the Bank's risk management policy.
- Credit Management Division is responsible for managing risks related to credit extension by supervising and monitoring credit extensions in accordance with the Bank's credit policies. The Credit Management Division comprises the Credit Policy unit, the Credit Acceptance unit, the Portfolio Management unit, the Risk Asset Review unit, the Special Asset Management unit, the Loan Recovery and Legal unit, and the Bank Property unit. The functions of each unit are summarized below.
 - Credit Policy unit oversees the credit policy framework and coordinates the improvement and adjustment of the credit policy. It is also responsible for disseminating the credit policy, credit standards and credit processes; for monitoring and overseeing exceptional cases which are inconsistent with the credit policy; and for gathering various inputs which may be used for improving the credit policy.

- Credit Acceptance unit oversees the quality of credit extensions to ensure they are in line with the credit policy and credit underwriting standards, reviews the appropriateness of loan structures as well as the results of customers' credit risk ratings, promotes the development of a good credit culture, and maintains a systematic and reliable credit extension process.
- Portfolio Management unit is responsible for analyzing and making recommendations for adjustments to the portfolio structure, recommending the appropriate portfolio composition and the provision of reserves for loan losses at the portfolio level, developing and overseeing credit risk management tools and methodologies, constructing credit databases, and overseeing related management standards.
- Risk Asset Review unit is charged with reviewing credit quality and credit management processes, assessing the adequacy of loan loss reserves, and evaluating compliance with credit policy, regulations and credit underwriting standards.
- Special Asset Management unit is responsible for managing non-performing loans, and for determining and executing strategies for the resolution and restructuring of troubled loans.
- Loan Recovery and Legal unit is responsible for taking legal actions, negotiating loan settlements, and seizing collateral for sale by public auction.
- Bank Property unit is responsible for managing and selling foreclosed assets obtained from loan recovery processes and from legal actions.

For the credit process, credit applications are first considered by the business units and then submitted to the Credit Acceptance unit. The unit conducts additional analysis to help mitigate credit risk by ensuring that the proposals comply with the Bank's credit policies in areas such as credit underwriting standards, credit risk rating, and collateral appraisal. In handling non-performing loans, there is a specific unit to manage and resolve such loans.

The Bank also has an independent unit to review credit quality and credit management processes; assess the adequacy of loan loss reserves for non-performing loans; evaluate the effectiveness in complying with credit policy, regulations and credit underwriting standards; and assess the appropriateness of portfolio composition, the adequacy of capital and the effectiveness of stress testing as specified by the Bank and the Bank of Thailand. All the above units report to the senior management, the Board of Executive Directors and the Risk Management Committee on a regular basis.

The Bank has established different measures to control credit risk. For example, the Bank has instituted limits on the amount of total credit extended, contingent liabilities and investment in a group of borrowers, an industry and a country. All of this will limit the loss of capital due to an economic downturn. Moreover, the Bank monitors and reports on these aspects to the senior management, the Board of Executive Directors and the Risk Management Committee to ensure that there will be adequate capital to safeguard the continuity of business operations in difficult times.

In addition, the Bank has established a risk management policy for intra-group¹ transactions, in accordance with the consolidated supervision principles of the Bank of Thailand which cover guidelines and limitations for intra-group transactions and their risk management. The intra-group transaction policy stipulates that the companies in the Bank's financial group shall manage, control and monitor the transaction volumes to be within the intra-group transaction policy of the Bank (as a parent company) and to be consistent with the guidelines of the Bank of Thailand and/or other relevant regulators. The companies in the Bank's financial group shall report intra-group transactions to the Risk Management Committee of the Bank's financial group and to the Bank's Board of Directors on a regular basis so that potential problems can be monitored and pre-empted before serious damage occurs.

The ratios of the Group's asset quality show the Bank's stability compared to the industry, with adequate reserves for losses from credit risk. The ratios as at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 were as follows.

¹ The Group comprises 9 companies as follows: 1) BANGKOK BANK PUBLIC COMPANY LIMITED (as a parent company) 2) BANGKOK BANK BERHAD (BBB) 3) BANGKOK BANK (CHINA) COMPANY LIMITED (BBC) 4) SINSUPTAWEE ASSET MANAGEMENT CO., LTD. 4) MARKET RISK

Market risk is the risk of losses in on and off-balance sheet positions of the Bank arising from movements in market prices such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices and commodity prices.

The Bank's market risk arises from financial services activities provided to customers and/or financial institutions. These involve buying and selling foreign exchange and debt securities, as well as restricted financial derivative transactions, such as foreign exchange forward contracts, cross currency swaps and interest rate swaps. The Bank manages market risk arising from customer-driven transactions to be at acceptable levels by hedging or reducing the risk exposure. Market risk exposures also arise from the Bank's own asset and liability positions.

The primary objective of market risk management is to manage the risks resulting from changes in market factors to be at acceptable levels and in line with the overall risk management policy of the Bank. The Bank has established a market risk management policy and specified market risk measurement metrics and limits, taking into consideration the nature and complexities of the respective financial activities. The following committee and units are mainly responsible for managing, monitoring and controlling market risks.

- ▶ Asset-Liability Management Committee is responsible for establishing and reviewing policies and guidelines for asset and liability management and market risk management as well as monitoring and controlling these risks to be at acceptable levels and in compliance with the risk management policy set by the Risk Management Committee.
- ▶ Treasury Division is responsible for executing the trading strategy for the Bank through buying and selling financial products such as foreign exchange, bonds and derivatives instruments, as well as managing the Bank's foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk and liquidity risk to be within the limits according to ALCO's guidelines and the Bank's acceptable risk level.
- ▶ Market Risk unit, which is part of the Risk Management

Division, is accountable for identifying, assessing, monitoring, reporting and controlling risk positions against specified limits. The Market Risk unit reports to ALCO on a regular basis and is responsible for proposing the enhancement of market risk policies, measurement metrics and limits in response to changes in operating environment, the Bank's business plans, and the complexities of financial activities.

The Bank segregates market risk management into two parts, the trading book and the banking book, which are classified according to the purpose of entering into the transaction.

▶ 4.1 Market Risk in the Trading Book

Trading book position includes positions of financial instruments that the Bank holds for a short period with an intention to trade, resell, and benefit from the difference between the buying and selling prices; to benefit from arbitrage opportunities; or to hedge other positions in the trading book. The Bank's main traded market risks are interest rate risk and foreign exchange risk.

Interest rate risk in the trading book arises when the Bank holds interest rate-related financial instruments with an intention to trade, speculate for a short-term profit, or hedge other positions in the trading book. These trading exposures include debt securities, foreign exchange forward contracts, interest rate swaps and currency swaps, etc. Changes in interest rates affect the fair value of these positions and may result in gains or losses for the Bank.

Foreign exchange risk arises when the Bank executes a foreign currency transaction which may lead to an overbought or oversold position in a particular currency. These transactions include foreign currency exchange, investments, loans, borrowings, financial commitments, and foreign exchange-related derivatives. The Bank may incur gains or losses as a result of movements in foreign exchange rates.

Risk factors affecting the Bank's trading exposures in 2014 and going forward include the stronger economic recovery in the US which would impact the US Federal Reserve's monetary policy stance and the timing of the US interest rate hike after the ending of QE measures in 2014, further quantitative easing from the European Central Bank (ECB), the Bank of Japan (BOJ) and the People's Bank of China (PBOC) in order to stimulate their flagging economies, geopolitical tensions between many countries such as Ukraine/Russia and North Korea/the US, and more importantly, Thailand's monetary and fiscal policy to support its economic recovery after the easing of political tension.

The Bank manages traded market risk primarily through a series of limits, such as VaR Limit, PV01 Limit and Maximum Loss Limit. Risk exposures are monitored and reported to senior management, the Board of Executive Directors and the Risk Management Committee on a regular basis. Value-at-risk (VaR) is a statistical technique for estimating the potential losses on risk exposures as a result of movements in market rates and prices over a specified time horizon and at a given level of confidence. The Bank also performs market risk stress testing on its trading book position at least on a quarterly basis to determine the potential losses from extreme market movements or crisis events. This stress testing enhances the Bank's understanding of its risk exposures and vulnerability as well as facilitating proactive risk management.

By using the historical simulation approach, the average VaR of the trading book for a one-day holding period, with a 99 percent confidence level, was Baht 65 million in 2014, meaning that the Bank's potential loss from trading activity could be no greater than Baht 65 million for 99 days out of 100 business days.

► 4.2 Market Risk in the Banking Book

The Bank's banking book is subject to interest rate risk and equity price risk which can be described as follows.

(1) Interest Rate Risk in the Banking Book

Interest rate risk in the banking book normally arises when the repricing and/or maturity schedule of assets, liabilities and off-balance sheet positions are not matched, or when the movements of reference interest rates on assets and liabilities are not correlated, negatively affecting net interest income (NII) and/or economic value of equity (EVE).

Primary factors affecting the trend and the level of interest rates include macroeconomic conditions and inflation rates, as well as the monetary policies adopted by the Bank of Thailand and central banks of major countries that may directly affect the trend and level of interest rates or affect the movement of international capital flows and subsequently affect interest rates. Moreover, competition among banks to increase or maintain market share on deposits and loans may also narrow the Bank's net interest margin.

To control interest rate risk in the banking book, the Bank has established a NII Impact Limit (being the Cumulative NII Impact within one year) and an EVE Impact Limit, assuming interest rates rise and decrease immediately by one percent.

The Bank manages interest rate risk by adjusting its asset and liability structure in line with forecast interest rate trends, taking into consideration the changes in NII and EVE. The Bank may deploy plain vanilla derivatives, such as interest rate swaps and cross currency interest rate swaps, to hedge or mitigate interest rate risks to be within the risk tolerance limit, based on ALCO's risk management guidelines. The Bank also performs stress testing for interest rate risk in the banking book on a quarterly basis in order to understand its vulnerability and potential negative impact on Net Interest Income under various stress scenarios. Results of the stress testing are used to determine alternative balance sheet strategies more suited to the business environment in order to achieve the business return target under an acceptable level of risk.

The Group's Net Interest Income impact of a one percent interest rate increase as at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 was as follows.

Currency	Million Baht
	Dec 31, 14	Dec 31, 13
THB	1,783.65	960.04
USD	1,548.57	1,618.12
EURO	6.76	17.46
OTH	337.76	349.77
Total NII Impact	3,676.74	2,945.39

(2) Equity Exposure in the Banking Book

Equity price risk is the risk associated with equity price changes resulting in the deterioration of investment value affecting the Bank's capital.

Objectives of the Bank's equity investment in the banking book are to enhance income in terms of dividends and capital gains under a medium-to long-term investment horizon and to support its core banking business by establishing good relationships with customers and creating networks of strategic investment partners, as well as using securities for debt repayment under debt restructuring agreements.

The Bank has established an equity investment and risk management policy as a guideline for assessing, monitoring and controlling equity price risk. Risk measurement techniques for the assessment of equity price risk are categorized by equity type. The Bank performs equity price risk stress testing at least on a quarterly basis in order to assess maximum potential losses from extreme market movements or crisis situations, as well as controlling the ratio of equity investment exposures to total capital in accordance with Bank of Thailand regulations.

5) LIQUIDITY RISK

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Bank is not able to meet financial obligations when they fall due. The purpose of the Bank's liquidity risk management is to maintain sufficient funds to meet present and future financial obligations while managing the use of the funds to generate an appropriate return in line with prevailing market conditions.

Liquidity risk factors mainly comprise the structure of the sources and use of funds, competition among commercial banks for a larger market share in deposits, and increased loan demand. Furthermore, the timing of US interest rate rises after the ending of QE measures may affect Thailand's capital flows and subsequently affect the liquidity in the banking system, commercial banks' cost of funds, and the accessibility of Thai commercial banks to foreign currency funding in pursuing business expansion.

The Bank manages liquidity risk in accordance with policies and principles established internally by ALCO and the relevant regulatory requirements. The Treasury Division is in charge of managing the Bank's day-to-day cash flow and liquidity position, monitoring money market conditions and interest and exchange rate movements and forecasting rate trends, as well as executing liquidity management strategies in accordance with ALCO guidelines. The Market Risk unit of the Risk Management Division is responsible for identifying, assessing, monitoring, reporting and controlling liquidity risks against specified limits. The Market Risk unit reports to ALCO regularly, at least once a month.

The Bank has diversified funding sources. Our major funding source is customer deposits which are well diversified in terms of customer type, deposit type and maturity. Moreover, the Bank manages liquidity in major currencies such as the Thai Baht and the US dollar by using domestic and international money and capital markets, including swap and repurchase markets. The Bank aims to balance the cost of liquidity against liquidity risks as deemed appropriate, based on market conditions and acceptable risk levels. The Bank also closely manages short-term and long-term liquidity positions, including the consideration of foreign short-term and long-term borrowings to meet customers' foreign currency loan demands in both domestic and overseas operations, as well as planning for capital fundraising as market conditions permit.

In addition to funding diversification, the Bank maintains high-quality liquid assets which can be liquidated or realized as needed in order to meet its financial obligations under both business-as-usual and crisis situations. The Bank maintains a liquidity reserve ratio in accordance with the requirements of the Bank of Thailand and other regulatory authorities in the countries where it has an international presence, as well as in accordance with the ALCO guidelines.

The Bank assesses, monitors and controls liquidity risk through a variety of measurements such as the loan-to-deposit ratio, liquidity reserve ratio and cumulative cash flow positions, under business-as-usual and crisis scenarios. The Bank also has in place an early warning system which provides alerts of any looming liquidity crisis, from both internal and external factors, that will allow for the prevention of liquidity risk crisis and/or for proactive liquidity risk management. The Bank conducts liquidity-risk stress tests whereby the stress scenarios incorporate both internal and external liquidity risk factors. Liquidity-risk stress scenarios can be classified into three categories: (i) bank-specific crisis; (ii) market-wide crisis; and (iii) a combination of both. Under each stress scenario, the assumptions of cash inflows and outflows are specified differently from those under the business-as-usual scenario, such as abnormal customer deposit withdrawals and overdraft drawdowns, inaccessibility to the money market, sales of the Bank's liquid assets at below-market prices due to the decrease in market liquidity of such assets, and contingent support for companies in the financial group. The results of liquidity-risk stress tests performed in 2014 showed that the Bank has continued to maintain a sufficient amount of excess liquidity under all three crisis scenarios.

The Bank has a liquidity contingency plan that outlines the roles and responsibilities of management and relevant departments, as well as having early-warning indicators and an action plan that enables the Bank to promptly cope with crisis events and successfully restore the situation to normal. In addition, the Bank has its Global Medium Term Notes (GMTN) Program which enables the Bank to access medium and long-term funding from the capital market in a timely and flexible manner.

The Group's liquidity position as at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 was as follows.

	Dec 31,14	Dec 31,13
Liquid assets (million baht)	920,034	772,733
Loan/deposits (%)	86.6	90.6
Loans/deposits and bills of exchange (%)	86.6	90.5
Liquid assets/total assets (%)	33.3	29.8
Liquid assets/deposits (%)	44.7	39.9
Liquid assets/deposits and short-term borrowing (%)	44.7	39.9

Note: Liquid assets are defined as cash, interbank and money market placement and lending, claims on securities, trading securities, and available-for-sale securities.

6) OPERATIONAL RISK

Operational risk is the risk of loss from failed or inadequate internal processes, people and systems, or from external events. This includes legal risks, but does not include strategic risks and reputation risks.

Operational risk factors are primarily composed of internal factors and external factors.

Internal factors are:

- The efficiency of the Bank's internal processes and internal control systems, including operational processes supporting business operations and processes for taking care of its personnel.
- The adequacy, qualifications and efficiency of the Bank's personnel.
- The Bank's operating systems, in terms of their capability to support the Bank's business operations, their complexity which may inflict risks, the issue of data security, the accuracy of data processing, and the development of, and changes in, technologies.

External factors are:

- Actions by outsiders such as theft or embezzlement of assets or data.
- Catastrophes, natural disasters and civil disorders that might cause damage to the Bank's assets.

The Bank understands that good operational risk management is vital to sustainable business success, particularly in the current environment where uncertainties, both domestic and international, prevail. The Bank therefore places great importance on effective operational risk management that provides sufficient coverage for all aspects of its operations, and is well prepared to deal promptly with any unpredictable event.

Furthermore, the Bank pays close attention to fraud risk management related to bank products and services such as credit cards, ATM cards and electronic services to ensure customer confidence. In relation to a new product and service launch, the product and service risks must be well analyzed, assessed and controlled to be at the acceptable level, and the appropriate risk control procedures must be in place.

The Bank's operational risk management includes defining, assessing, monitoring, mitigating and controlling risk. Each unit in the Bank is directly responsible for managing its operational risk and for establishing measures to mitigate and control the risk to the designated level by allocating appropriate resources and establishing an organizational culture for managing operational risk.

A key principle underlying the Bank's operational risk management is to educate staff throughout the Bank by providing them with a consistent understanding of operational risk, and to build an operational risk culture across the Bank, so that they are able to accurately and completely identify the operational risks, assess the risks, analyze details of the risks, find appropriate solutions to mitigate risks, and implement the selected solutions to minimize risks. This is followed by the systematic monitoring of progress, the measurement of potential risks, and regular reviews of the entire process.

The Bank has a dedicated unit for operational risk management under its Risk Management Division, which has taken steps to enhance its operational risk management system. The enhancements include monitoring and supporting every unit in implementing the operational risk management framework at the unit level, managing operational risk at the organization level, reviewing operational risk management in the process of product and service development, calculating the capital required for operational risk under the Basel II framework, and maintaining and analyzing data on the operational risk loss data system. The Operational Risk unit coordinates with the Compliance and Audit and Control Division, by information sharing, analyzing and setting controls to enhance the efficiency of operational risk management and the Bank's internal controls.

The Bank has implemented business continuity management to help minimize the impact of operational risk loss and events from external factors, such as political unrest in 2010 and 2013-2014 and severe flooding in 2011. The Bank has adopted the business continuity management policy approved by the Board of Directors and has developed a business continuity plan which is reviewed and updated in accordance with potential threats, as well as being tested on a regular basis.

7) CAPITAL ADEQUACY RISK

Capital is an important source of funding for any financial business. Therefore, effective capital management reflects the financial strength, and directly affects the reliability, of financial institutions.

Capital structure, according to the regulations on capital requirements under the Bank of Thailand's Basel III principles, which have been effective since January 1, 2013, is classified into Common Equity Tier 1 capital, Additional Tier 1 capital and Tier 2 capital.

- Common Equity Tier 1 capital comprises
 - 1) Paid-up share capital
 - 2) Premium (discount) on common shares
 - 3) Legal reserves
 - 4) Reserves appropriated from net profit
 - 5) Retained earnings after appropriations
 - 6) Non-controlling interest classified as Common Equity Tier 1
 - 7) Other reserves
 - 8) Deductions such as intangible assets
- Additional Tier 1 capital consists of non-controlling interest classified as Tier 1 capital.
- Tier 2 capital consists of
 - 1) Long-term subordinated debt instruments subordinated to depositors and general creditors
 - 2) General provisions for normal assets not exceeding 1.25 percent of credit risk assets
 - 3) Non-controlling interest classified as Tier 2

In adopting Basel III, the Bank of Thailand provides for new other comprehensive income items to be recognized as capital by allowing the addition to, or deduction from, capital at 20 percent p.a. from 2014 to 2018. For subordinated debt instruments classified as Tier 2 for which the criteria do not meet qualifications under Basel III regarding capability for loss absorbency of the Bank at the point of non-viability i.e. no conversion feature to common shares or written off upon the authority's decision to make financial support to the Bank, the Bank of Thailand requires phasing out capital at 10 percent p.a. from 2013 to 2022.

The Group's capital position as at December 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 was as follows.

	Million Baht
	Dec 31,14	Dec 31,13
Tier 1 capital	303,810	276,678
Common Equity Tier 1 capital	303,683	276,562
Additional Tier 1 capital	127	116
Tier 2 capital	46,287	48,349
Total capital	350,097	325,027

Capital adequacy risk factors cover the type, quantity and quality of the Bank's risk assets as well as the Bank's earnings' capacity. In times of severe economic and financial difficulties, the quality of the Bank's assets, including its investments, may deteriorate.

The value of the Bank's assets and/or investments and/or collateral may also decline, thereby increasing the Bank's risk weighted assets. As a consequence, the Bank's earnings may also be affected, resulting in a reduction of capital and leading to a corresponding decline in its capital adequacy ratio.

The objective of the Bank's capital management policy is to maintain an adequate level of capital to support growth strategies within an acceptable risk framework, as well as to meet regulatory requirements and market expectations.

In compliance with the Bank of Thailand's supervisory review process guidelines, the Bank's capital management process assesses the overall risk and capital adequacy under the Internal Capital Adequacy Assessment Process (ICAAP). The process covers assessments of all substantial risks to the Bank's operations under projected normal and stressed scenarios, so that the Bank can effectively manage its risks while ascertaining and ensuring that it has a sound capital base in line with its risk profile.

The Standardised Approach (SA) is currently used to measure credit risk, market risk and operational risk for computing regulatory capital requirements under the Bank of Thailand's Basel III.

Under the principles of Basel III, the Bank of Thailand requires that commercial banks registered in Thailand and their groups must maintain three minimum capital adequacy ratios: a Common Equity Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio of no less than 4.5 percent, a Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio of no less than 6.0 percent, and a total capital adequacy ratio of no less than 8.5 percent. However, the aforementioned minimum ratios do not include the additional capital ratio of the Capital Conservation Buffer which the Bank of Thailand will phase in from 2016 to 2019, starting at 0.625 percent p.a. and increasing incrementally to 2.50 percent in 2019. Moreover, the Bank of Thailand may require banks to maintain additional capital for a Countercyclical Buffer at a maximum ratio of 2.50 percent.

As at December 31, 2014, the Group's Common Equity Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio, its Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio and its total capital adequacy ratio were 15.10 percent, 15.11 percent and 17.41 percent, respectively, whereas as at December 31, 2013 the ratios were 14.26 percent, 14.26 percent and 16.75 percent, respectively. Such ratios exceeded the Bank of Thailand's Basel III minimum requirements.

8) CREDIT CONCENTRATION RISK

Credit concentration risk is the risk of the Bank making lending, investment and other contractual commitments to any borrower or any sector at very high volumes. If losses occur, this will affect the status and operations of the Bank.

The Bank manages credit concentration risk by controlling its large borrower concentration and industry concentration. Large borrower concentration is controlled by limiting the lending, investment and other contractual commitments to any one borrower or any one project to no more than 25 percent of the Bank's total capital. The Bank also sets a limit on the total sum of lending, investment and other contractual commitments to any group of borrowers that exceeds 10 percent of the Bank's total capital to three times the total capital. These two limits are required by the Bank of Thailand.

To control industry concentration, the Bank determines the lending limit to any industry sector at an acceptable level to limit damages to the Bank's capital in the event of a serious incident with major implications on certain sectors.

As at December 31, 2014, groups of borrowers with exposure exceeding 10 percent of the Bank's capital had a combined exposure lower than the limit mentioned above. By sector, the Group's lending to manufacturing and commercial was the highest, at 45.9 percent of total lending. The next highest was utilities and services, at 17.4 percent, followed by housing at 10.7 percent. Although the Bank's lending to the manufacturing and commercial sectors is considered high as a proportion of total lending, it is well diversified among various subsectors and is a small proportion to total lending. Moreover, the Bank regularly monitors its lending portfolio in order to maintain an appropriate level of diversification.

Appropriation of Profit for the Year 2014

In 2014, the net profit from operations of the Bank amounted to Baht 34,121,215,688.71 and the total profit to be appropriated for 2014 amounted to Baht 105,896,276,850.55. The Board of Directors had appropriated a part of the profit in the first half and paid an interim dividend on September 26, 2014 at the rate of Baht 2.00 per share. The Board of Directors has now passed a resolution to submit to the shareholders' meeting for consideration of the appropriation of profit for 2014 and the payment of the final dividend at the rate of Baht 4.50 per share, details as follows.

This compares with the dividend paid at the rate of Baht 6.50 per share in 2013, totaling Baht 12,407,478,811.00 or about 36.63 percent of the annual net profit.

Corporate Governance

BANGKOK BANK RECOGNIZES THE IMPORTANCE OF GOOD CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AS A MAJOR FACTOR IN ENHANCING THE EFFICIENCY OF THE ORGANIZATION.

Bangkok Bank recognizes the importance of good corporate governance as a major factor in enhancing the efficiency of the organization. The Bank therefore conducts its business in line with the principles of good corporate governance, which form a basis for sustainable growth. Furthermore, the Audit Committee has performed an annual assessment of the sufficiency of the internal control system and submitted the results to the Board of Directors.

The Audit Committee is of an opinion that the Bank's internal control and audit systems are sufficient, appropriate, and continuously developed.

With regard to the remuneration for the independent auditors, the Audit Committee has considered their scope of responsibilities, remuneration rates at other auditing firms, and available information on remuneration for independent auditors at other commercial banks.

The Audit Committee has considered and nominated the auditors of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Jaiyos Audit Company Limited to be the Bank's independent auditors for 2014, and has also considered the suitability of their remuneration. The Audit Committee has submitted its opinions and recommendations on the appointment and remuneration of the independent auditors to the Board of Directors, to be proposed to the shareholders' meeting for approval.

In so doing, the Audit Committee has considered on a regular basis the results of internal supervision for compliance alongside the requirements of supervisory authorities in which the Bank's branches are located.

Management's Responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Thai Standards on Auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Bank's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Bank's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the aforementioned consolidated and Bank's financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Bangkok Bank Public Company Limited and subsidiaries and of Bangkok Bank Public Company Limited as at December 31, 2014, and financial performance and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Thai Financial Reporting Standards.

3.3 Cash

Cash consists of cash on hand and cash in transit.

3.4 Derivatives

Derivatives are initially recorded at fair value at the date on which a derivative contract is entered into (Trade Date) and are subsequently measured at fair value. The changes in fair value are recognized as gains (losses) on tradings and foreign exchange transactions.

The fair value of derivatives is derived from market price or valuation techniques which are based on the market prices of instruments with similar characteristics and maturities or the valuation quoted by a reliable institution. Where applicable, a valuation reserve is applied to arrive at proper fair value.

The Bank makes use of derivatives to manage exposures arising from assets, liabilities, off-balance sheet items, net positions or cash flow. Upon meeting specified criteria for hedge accounting, the Bank applies hedge accounting for the aforementioned derivatives and the same basis (accrual basis) of accounting for the hedged items.

In hedging, the Bank takes into consideration the relationship between derivatives and the hedged item, including the nature of the risk, the objective and strategy for undertaking the hedge as well as the effectiveness of the hedging relationship.

The Bank discontinues using hedge accounting when a hedging instrument expires or is sold, or when a hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting. Derivative is then remeasured at fair value and the difference between the carrying value under accrual method and the fair value of derivative is amortized and recognized in profit or loss in line with the hedged items.

3.5 Embedded derivative

An embedded derivative is a component of a hybrid or combined instrument that also includes a non-derivative host contract. An embedded derivative causes some or all of the cash flows that otherwise would be required by the contract to be modified according to the specified variable. The Bank recognizes, classifies and accounts for the embedded derivative in accordance with the BOT's Notification. An embedded derivative is separated from the host contract and accounted for as a derivative if all of the following criteria are met, namely that the embedded derivative has economic characteristics and risks that are not closely related to that of the host contract, and which when separated from the host contract would still meet the definition of a derivative, and where the hybrid instrument is not measured and recognized at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in profit or loss. An embedded derivative that is separated from the host contract is classified as held for trading and is presented at fair value with changes in fair value recognized as gains (losses) on tradings and foreign exchange transactions. The related host contract is recognized, classified and measured according to the related accounting policy. An embedded derivative in a hybrid instrument which does not meet the aforementioned criteria is accounted for under the host contract.

3.6 Investments

The Bank and its subsidiaries classify debt securities, equity securities and investments in receivables as trading investments, available-for-sale investments, held-to-maturity debt securities, general investments and investments in subsidiaries and associates.

Investments are initially recognized on the settlement date at fair value.

Investments in debt securities or marketable equity securities with readily determinable market values that are acquired with the intent to hold for a short period of time in order to take advantage of anticipated changes in market values are classified as trading investments and carried at fair value. Unrealized gains and losses from changes in their fair value, and gains and losses on disposal of investments are recognized as gains (losses) on tradings and foreign exchange transactions.

Debt securities for which the Bank has the intent and the ability to hold until maturity are classified as held-to-maturity debt securities and carried at the amortized cost, net of valuation allowances for impairment (if any).

Debt securities, investments in receivables and marketable equity securities with readily determinable market values that are not classified as either held-to-maturity debt securities, or trading investments or investments in subsidiaries and associates are classified as available-for-sale investments and carried at fair value. The unrealized gains or losses from changes in their fair value are reported as a component of shareholders' equity through other comprehensive income until realized, after which such gains or losses on disposal of the investments will be recognized as gains (losses) on investments.

Non-marketable equity securities and listed securities with restriction on trading price are classified as general investments and carried at cost, net of valuation allowances for impairment (if any).

Investments in subsidiaries and associates in the Bank's financial statements are presented under the cost method, net of valuation allowances for impairment (if any). Investments in associates in the consolidated financial statements are presented under the equity method, net of valuation allowances for impairment (if any).

The Bank presents its investments transferred to a subsidiary as securities transferred to subsidiary, classified as available-for-sale investments. Cash received from the aforementioned transfer is presented as other liabilities in accordance with accounting treatment guidance for transfers and accept transfers of financial assets.

Cost of debt and equity securities disposed is computed based on the weighted-average method. Interest income on debt securities is recognized on an accrual basis. The amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts uses methods that produce a level yield and presents as interest income. Dividend is recognized on an accrual basis as other operating income.

Valuation allowances for impairment are established by recognizing an unrealized loss upon impairment of investments as per the Bank and its subsidiaries' assessment. The impairment loss for equity securities is reported as gains (losses) on investments and the impairment loss for debt securities is reported as impairment loss of loans and debt securities.

The fair value determination of debt securities

- For domestic debt securities listed in the Thai Bond Market Association, the fair value is determined by using the bid yield of debt securities published in the Thai Bond Market Association. For such debt securities that are not listed in the Thai Bond Market Association, the average bid yield from three reliable financial institutions will be used.
- For foreign debt securities, the value quoted by reliable international financial institutions will be used.

The fair value determination of equity securities

- For marketable equity securities with readily determinable market values, the fair value is determined by the last bid price on The Stock Exchange of Thailand on the last business day of the period. If the last bid price is not available, the last closing price will be used.
- Investment in unit trusts are stated at fair value based on redemption value as at the end of the period.

3.7 Loans to customers

The Bank recognizes loans to customers at cost when cash is advanced to a borrower and derecognizes when getting repayment or writing off.

Overdrafts are carried at the drawn amounts including interest. Other loans to customers are carried at the principal amounts (See Note 6.6).

3.8 Allowance for doubtful accounts

The BOT allows banks to classify loans and set up the allowance for doubtful accounts on an account-by-account basis or on a customer basis. In this respect, the Bank has chosen to classify loans and set up the allowance for doubtful accounts on a customer basis, such that all loans extended to a customer are classified at the lowest quality category of such customer and the allowance for doubtful accounts is determined according to the loan classification. The Bank also performs qualitative reviews of loans and commitments in accordance with the guidelines of the BOT.

The Bank had set up the minimum allowance for doubtful accounts in accordance with the BOT's Notification regarding the Basis for Classification and Allowance of Financial Institutions dated August 3, 2008.

The Bank had set up the allowance for doubtful accounts for non-performing loans in an amount equal to the difference between the book value of the outstanding loan and the present value of estimated future cash flows from the debtor, or the difference between the book value of the outstanding loan and the present value of estimated future cash flows from the disposal of collateral. For the allowance for doubtful accounts for performing loans, the Bank had set up the allowance in accordance with the minimum percentage of the BOT's guidelines. For loans having similar credit risk characteristics, the Bank may set up the allowance in an amount of collective impairment by using the historical loss data including current observable data (See Note 6.6.1). Furthermore, the Bank had set aside an additional allowance for doubtful accounts in excess of the minimum BOT's requirement by taking into consideration the potential additional loss arising from changes in economic and legal environment and other factors that may impact the ability of the debtors in meeting their obligations under the loan agreements.

Debts that are determined to be irrecoverable are written off in the period in which the decision is taken. Bad debts recovered are recorded as an increase in allowance for doubtful accounts.

In the event of a loss on debt restructuring, the Bank will reduce bad debt and doubtful accounts and allowance for doubtful accounts by either the loss on debt restructuring or the allowance for doubtful accounts for that debtor, whichever is the lower.

3.9 Troubled debt restructurings

The Bank's restructuring methodology includes reduction of principal and/or accrued interest receivable, asset transfer, debt-equity conversion, and modification of payment schedule.

For debt repayment through asset transfer or debt-equity conversion according to debt restructuring contract, the Bank recognizes the transferred asset or equity conservatively at the lower of recorded loan amount or asset fair value, the effect of which is not materially different from recording the transfer at the fair value following Thai Accounting Standard regarding Accounting for Troubled Debt Restructurings.

For debt restructuring using modification of payment schedule, the Bank calculates the fair value of loans based on the present value of the expected future cash flows discounted by the market rate. The Bank applies lending interest rate (MLR) published by the Bank and in force at the time of restructuring as the discount rate in calculating the resulting future loss, and recognizes this loss on restructuring as expense immediately upon restructuring. Subsequently, the Bank recalculates the above-mentioned future loss periodically using the lending interest rate published by the Bank and in force as at the reporting date as the discount rate and recognizes the change of the above-mentioned future loss as an increase or a decrease in expense in loss on restructuring accounts.

3.10 Properties for sale

Properties for sale consist of immovable and movable properties which are stated at the lower of cost or market value at the date of acquisition. In the event where the Bank considers that there is a decline in net realizable value, the impairment is recognized as other operating expense.

Net realizable value is estimated based on the appraised value together with other factors which can affect the realizable value such as related selling expenses and future discounts expenses.

Gains or losses on disposal of such properties for sale are recognized as other operating income or expense on the date of disposal.

The Bank had complied with the BOT's Notification regarding the Immovable Properties for Sale, and the Rules of the Purchase and Holding of Immovable Properties to be used as Premises for Business of Commercial Banks or as Facilities for its Officers and Employees dated December 11, 2009 and the Accounting Rules for Financial Institutions in relation to the Sales of Properties for Sale dated December 17, 2012.

3.11 Premises, equipment and depreciation

Land is stated at the new appraised value. Premises are stated at the new appraised value net of accumulated depreciation and allowance for impairment (if any). Equipment is stated at cost net of accumulated depreciation and allowance for impairment (if any).

The land and premises reappraisal is done by independent appraisers according to the guidelines established by the BOT based on the market value method for land and the replacement cost method net of accumulated depreciation for premises, and the increment resulting from the appraisal is recognized as part of shareholders' equity as unrealized increment per land and premises appraisal. Depreciation of the increment per premises appraisal is recognized as other operating expense and the unrealized increment per premises appraisal is amortized by transferring directly to retained earnings in an amount equal to such depreciation. Land and premises appraisal decrease is charged directly against any prior appraisal increase for the particular asset. The residual appraisal decrease is recognized as other operating expense.

Depreciation is calculated by the straight-line method, based on the estimated useful lives of the assets, as follows :

Premises-reappraised	20 - 30 years
Premises-newly constructed	20 years
Equipment	3 - 5 years

Depreciation of premises and equipment in foreign countries is at the legal rates applicable in each locality.

When land, premises and equipment become impaired, the allowance for impairment is recorded to recognize loss on impairment as other operating expenses.

Gains or losses on disposal of land, premises and equipment are recognized as other operating income or expenses upon disposal.

3.12 Intangible assets and amortization

Intangible assets are stated at cost net of accumulated amortization and allowance for impairment (if any).

Amortization is calculated by the straight-line method, based on the estimated useful lives of the assets. For computer software, the estimated useful lives are between 3 - 5 years.

Amortization of intangible assets in foreign countries is at the legal rates applicable in each locality.

When intangible assets become impaired, the allowance for impairment is recorded to recognize loss on impairment as other operating expenses.

Gains or losses on disposal of intangible assets are recognized as other operating income or expenses upon disposal.

3.13 Leaseholds

Leaseholds are stated at cost less amortization. Amortization charge is calculated by the straight-line method, based on the lease period, which ranges between 2 - 30 years.

3.14 Provisions

The Bank recognizes provisions in the statements of financial position when the Bank has obligations as a result of a past event and where it is probable that there will be an outflow of economic benefits to settle such obligations. The provisions, such as the provisions for off-balance sheet contingencies, the provision for the post-employment benefits (See Note 6.21), the probable loss on legal indemnity, and other provisions, have been recognized in the statements of financial position.

The Bank recognizes the provisions as other operating expenses and as provisions in the statements of financial position.

The Bank reviews the provisions on a regular basis, and recognizes the changes in the provisions as increase or decrease in other operating expenses.

3.15 Assets and liabilities in foreign currencies

3.15.1 Functional currency and presentation currency

Items in the financial statements of foreign operations are recorded at their functional currency.

The consolidated and the Bank's financial statements are presented in Baht as the presentation currency.

3.15.2 Translation of foreign currency transactions

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the rates of exchange prevailing at the transaction dates.

At the reporting date, balances of monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate as of the reporting date. Balances of non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate prevailing at the transaction dates or exchange rate at the date when the fair value was determined.

Gains and losses on foreign currency trading and foreign currency translation are presented as gains (losses) on tradings and foreign exchange transactions.

3.15.3 Translation of financial statements of foreign operations

In preparation of the consolidated and the Bank's financial statements, the Bank translates the items in the statement of financial position of the foreign operation which its functional currency is other than Baht by using the reference rates of BOT as of the reporting date and translates the items in the statement of comprehensive income by using the reference rates of BOT at the end of each month.

Gains or losses on translation of the financial statements of foreign operations are recognized as a component of shareholders' equity through other comprehensive income.

3.16 Post-employment benefits

3.16.1 Defined contribution plans

The Bank and its domestic subsidiaries have the provident funds, which are managed by external fund managers, for their employees in accordance with the Provident Fund Act B.E. 2530 (1987). The Bank, its domestic subsidiaries and their employees contribute to the funds at the determined rates. The employees are entitled to benefits according to the Fund regulations.

The provident funds for overseas branches and overseas subsidiaries are established in accordance with each country's legal requirement and any withdrawal is made in compliance therewith.

The provident funds are considered defined contribution plans. The Bank and subsidiaries recognize their contributions to the provident funds as personnel expenses upon receiving the service from employees.

3.16.2 Defined benefit plans

The Bank and its subsidiaries provide the defined benefit plans for their employees under the employment agreements. The provision for the employee benefits is assessed by an actuary using the actuarial techniques called the Projected Unit Credit Method to determine the present value of cash flows of employee benefits to be paid in the future. Under this method, the determination is based on actuarial calculations which include the employee's salaries, turnover rate, mortality rate, years of service and other factors.

The Bank and its subsidiaries recognize the provision for defined benefit plans in the statements of financial position with the net total of the present value of defined benefits obligations minus unrecognized past service costs and the fair value of plan assets. The expense for defined benefit plans is recognized as personnel expenses in the statements of comprehensive income.

The actuarial gains (losses) are recognized in other comprehensive income and transferred immediately to the retained earnings in the period in which they arise. The past service costs are recognized immediately as expense to the extent that the benefits have vested except for non-vested benefits which shall be amortized using a straight-line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested.

3.17 Income taxes

Income taxes comprise of current tax and deferred tax.

Current tax is recognized at the amount expected to be paid or recovered from the tax authorities by calculating from taxable profit or loss for the period and using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted by the reporting date.

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences arising between carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit or loss (tax base). The Bank recognized deferred tax assets and liabilities arising from such temporary differences at the amount of expected benefit to be received from the assets or paid for the liabilities in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in equity, in which case it is recognized directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset, if the Bank has a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and current tax liabilities, and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity.

Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be sufficiently available to allow the temporary differences to be utilized. The carrying amount of deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that the related tax benefit will be realized.

3.18 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net income attributable to the Bank by the average number of ordinary shares outstanding and issued during the period, weighted by the time and amount paid.

Diluted earnings per share are computed from adjusting the net income attributable to ordinary shares and adjusting the number of ordinary shares by the effect of dilutive potential ordinary shares.

4. RISK MANAGEMENT

4.1 Risk information of the Bank

The Bank's Risk Management Committee plays a significant role in prescribing the risk management policy, reviewing the sufficiency of the risk management policy and system, defining the strategy for risk management, and monitoring the Bank's risk to an appropriate level, in compliance with the Bank's risk management policy which has been approved by the Board of Directors based on the Risk Management Committee's recommendation. The objectives are to manage the relevant risks within designated boundaries, in particular the maintenance of capital in accordance with the revised capital adequacy requirements under the Basel III guidelines and to achieve an appropriate rate of return.

Important processes in the risk management system comprise the identification of significant risks which may potentially impact the Bank's business operations, the assessment of each type of risk, the monitoring of risks to be at an appropriate level under the Bank's policy, and the reporting of the status of each type of risk to relevant parties so as to enable them to manage and/or handle the risks in a timely manner.

The key principle of the risk management system is that business units shall be responsible for continuously managing their risk exposures in order to ensure that the risk is within the specified limits and in compliance with the overall risk management policy approved by the Board of Directors, while the Risk Management unit is responsible for monitoring and controlling the risks on a regular basis.

4.1.1 Credit risk

Credit Risk is the risk that borrowers or counterparties fail to fulfill their obligations under contractual agreements arising from lending, investment and other contractual activities, such as the borrowers' failure to repay principal or interest as agreed in the contract, etc. The Bank's maximum exposure to credit risk is the net carrying amount of the financial assets or the amount which the Bank could have to pay if counterparties cannot meet such contractual obligations.

The Bank has established comprehensive credit underwriting processes which include the formulation of the credit policy, procedures for the assessment of credit risk ratings for customers, and the establishment of various levels of credit approval authority, based on the type of business and/or the size of the credit facilities. In general, credit facilities are extended based on the capacity to repay, which is assessed by evaluating the purpose of the loan, the projected operating cash flows, business feasibility and the capability of management. Collateral coverage is also taken into consideration as a contingency measure. Credit reviews including reviews of the credit risk ratings are undertaken on a regular basis. Furthermore, the Bank also has established limits to be used as a tool to monitor and control credit risk.

4.1.2 Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk arises from the potential change in interest rates which may have an adverse effect on the net interest income of the Bank in the current reporting period, and/or in future periods. Interest rate risk arises from the structure and characteristics of the Bank's assets and liabilities, and in the mismatch in repricing dates of its assets and liabilities.

The Bank assesses, monitors, and controls interest rate risk to be at an acceptable level and to comply with the policy set by the Asset-Liability Management Committee (ALCO) and the Risk Management Committee (RMC). The Bank manages interest rate risk in order to achieve business return targets and control the potential impact on capital to be within a specified limit. The Bank thus deploys derivatives to hedge its interest rate risk.

The Bank has significant financial assets and financial liabilities categorized by the earlier of contractual repricing or maturity dates as at December 31, 2014 and 2013 as follows :

4.1.3 Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange rate risk arises when the Bank deals in foreign currency transactions which lead to overbought or oversold positions in any individual foreign currency positions. The Bank may incur gains or losses as a result of changes in foreign exchange rates.

The Bank manages its foreign currency positions in compliance with regulatory guidelines and the internal risk limits set by ALCO and RMC.

4.1.4 Equity price risk

Equity price risk is the risk associated with equity price changes and resulting in the deterioration of investment value or income fluctuations.

The Bank invests in equity securities within the regulatory guidelines and its investment policy.

4.1.5 Liquidity risk

Liquidity Risk is the risk that the Bank is unable to meet financial obligations when they fall due. The purpose of the Bank's liquidity risk management is to maintain sufficient funds to meet present and future financial obligations while managing the use of the funds to generate an appropriate return in line with prevailing market conditions.

The Bank manages liquidity risk in accordance with policies and guidelines established by ALCO and the liquidity reserve requirement as well as other relevant regulatory requirements. Treasury Division is in charge of managing the Bank's liquidity, while the Market Risk unit of the Risk Management unit is responsible for identifying, assessing, monitoring, reporting and controlling risks to be within the specified limits and reports to ALCO on a regular basis.

The Bank has diversified funding sources. Its major funding source is customer deposits which are well-diversified in different deposit types and maturities. Moreover, the Bank manages its liquidity through domestic money and capital markets including swap and repurchase markets, and through international money and capital markets in currencies such as the US dollar and the Euro. The Bank aims to balance the cost of liquidity against liquidity risks as deemed appropriate based on market conditions and acceptable risk levels. The Bank also closely manages short-term and long-term liquidity positions, taking into consideration foreign short-term and long-term borrowings to meet customers' foreign currency loan demands in both domestic and overseas operations as well as planning for capital fund raising as market conditions permit. The following methods and assumptions were used by the Bank in estimating the fair value of financial instruments as disclosed herein :

For cash, interbank and money market items (assets and liabilities), deposits, liabilities payable on demand, the carrying amounts in the statements of financial position approximate the fair value of the items.

The fair value for derivatives is presented in accordance with the significant accounting policies disclosed in Note 3.4.

For trading investments, available-for-sale investments, and held-to-maturity debt securities, the fair value is calculated in accordance with the significant accounting policies disclosed in Note 3.6.

For general investments, the fair value is determined by using appropriate valuation techniques with price and/or variables from the market and consideration to limitation of sale, liquidation, and discount rate to adjust such fair value. The valuation techniques include the use of recent arm's length transactions, reference to current fair value of other investments that have similar characteristics, discounted cash flows, and market multiples.

The fair value for loans to customers and interest receivables is based on the carrying value of the loans to customers and interest receivables, net of the allowance for doubtful accounts as presented in the statement of financial position, as most of the loans are floating rate loans.

The fair value for debt issued and borrowings is based on the market value or amortized cost.

4.3 Capital fund

It is the Bank's policy to maintain an adequate level of capital to support growth strategies under an acceptable risk framework taking into consideration regulatory requirements and market expectations. The Bank regularly assesses its capital adequacy under various scenarios in order to anticipate capital requirements for the purpose of its capital planning and management process.

Capital fund ratio	Percentage

5. SIGNIFICANT USE OF ACCOUNTING JUDGMENTS AND ESTIMATES

5.1 Impairment of investments in securities

The Bank assesses the impairment of investments in securities where objective evidence of impairment exists and determines that the investments are impaired when there has been a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value below its cost. This determination of what is significant or prolonged requires the Bank's judgment. In making this judgment, the Bank evaluates the volatility in the investment's fair value and other factors which include the estimated future cash flows, the deterioration in the financial position of the issuer of the securities and the operating environment in the industry sector of the issuer.

5.2 Allowance for doubtful accounts

The determination of the allowance for doubtful accounts requires the use of various assumptions and judgments by the Bank, which includes the consideration of objective evidence indicating an adverse change in the capacity of the borrowers to repay loans, the estimated future cash flows to be received from the borrowers, the estimated cash flows from the collateral, the timing of future cash flows, the potential of additional future loss and the economic conditions that may have an impact on the loan default rate. The Bank reviews these estimates and assumptions on a regular basis.

5.3 Provisions

The determination of the provisions on the statement of financial position requires the use of various assumptions and judgments by the Bank, taking into consideration the nature of transactions and the circumstances requiring the provisions, the probability of the outflow of economic benefits to settle such obligations and the estimate of the net future cash outflows. The consideration is based on the experience and information that is available at the time that the financial statements are being prepared. The provisions are reviewed regularly. However, the actual results may differ from the estimates.

For the estimation of the provision for the defined benefit plans under the post-employment benefits, the estimation is calculated by an actuary by using the actuarial techniques which requires actuarial assumptions on financial variables such as discount rate, future salaries and benefits, expected return on plan assets etc., and demographic variables such as employee mortality and turnover etc.

5.4 Fair value of financial instruments

Fair value is the amount for which an asset can be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable and willing parties in an arm's length transaction. The Bank uses different methodologies for determining the fair value of financial instruments depending on the characteristics of the financial instruments and the financial markets in which it operates.

Financial instruments that have standard terms and conditions and are traded on an active and liquid market have their fair values determined by the quoted market prices. For other types of financial instruments, the fair value is determined by using valuation techniques commonly used by market participants including the reference to the fair value of another instrument of a similar nature, the discounted cash flow analysis and pricing models.

The Bank uses its best judgment in estimating the fair values of financial instruments. However, estimation methodologies and assumptions used to estimate fair values are inherently subjective. Accordingly, the use of different estimation methodologies and/or market assumptions may have a significant effect on the estimated fair values.
