

Summary of Operating Results for the Bank and its Subsidiaries

Quarter Ended March 31, 2026

In the first quarter of 2026, the Thai economy continued to face pressures from both external factors and domestic structural constraints, particularly geopolitical tensions in the Middle East and the slowdown in the global economy, which weighed on business confidence and private investment. Although exports continued to expand, supported by demand from major trading partners, the pace of growth began to slow compared to the previous period. At the same time, the tourism sector recovered below expectations, especially as the Chinese market has not yet fully returned, while the fluctuations of the Thai baht in some periods also reduced Thailand's price competitiveness. In addition, conflicts in the Middle East led to higher global oil prices, which have begun to pass through to costs across the economy. Meanwhile, fiscal policy remains constrained by the budget framework and the level of public debt, limiting the government's ability to introduce additional stimulus measures. As a result, Thailand's economic recovery is expected to remain fragile and vulnerable to both external and domestic risks.

Amid ongoing global economic uncertainty, driven by tensions in the Middle East and elevated energy prices, inflation is expected to remain heightened in the period ahead. These developments continue to place pressures on the business sector, particularly through rising costs and competitiveness. Bangkok Bank recognizes that such risks are widespread and inherently difficult to assess. Against this backdrop, the Bank remains committed to supporting and advising its customers, standing alongside them as a "trusted partner and reliable close friend." The Bank continues to prioritize enhancing customers' liquidity, through solutions that are appropriately tailored to individual business needs, enabling them to sustain operations amid this volatility. At the same time, Bangkok Bank maintains a prudent approach to its operations, with a strong emphasis on disciplined risk management. The Bank continues to preserve the strength of its financial position, liquidity, and capital, ensuring resilience and reinforcing confidence in the Bank's ability to stand alongside its customers through these challenging times.

Bangkok Bank and its subsidiaries reported a net profit of Baht 10,994 million in the first quarter of 2026, a decrease of 12.9 percent compared with the same quarter last year from total operating income. Net interest income declined by 12.3 percent following the Bank's interest rate reductions, as a result the net interest margin stood at 2.49 percent. Non-interest income decreased by 6.6 percent mainly from gains on investments and loan related fees. Meanwhile, dividend income and securities related fees increased. The Bank's operating expenses decreased by 12.0 percent, and the cost to income ratio stood at 44.7 percent, as the Bank continues to place emphasis on ongoing operational efficiency enhancement alongside appropriate cost management. In this quarter, the Bank set aside expected credit losses at Baht 9,003 million under its consistently prudent management approach to accommodate an increasingly challenging economic environment.

At the end of March 2026, the Bank's total loans amounted to Baht 2,661,368 million, an increase of 2.0 percent from the end of last year due mainly to loans to large corporate customers. The non-performing loan to total loans ratio was at a manageable level of 3.1 percent. Under the Bank's continuous prudent management approach, the ratio of the allowance for expected credit losses to non-performing loan remained strong at 318.1 percent.

As of March 31, 2026, the Bank's deposits amounted to Baht 3,233,560 million, increased by 0.9 percent from the end of last year, with the loan to deposit ratio at 82.6 percent. The total capital adequacy ratio, Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio, and Common Equity Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio of the Bank and its subsidiaries stood at 20.9 percent, 16.4 percent and 16.4 percent, respectively, comfortably above the Bank of Thailand's minimum capital requirements.

^{/1} Attributable to owners of the Bank

Bangkok Bank and its subsidiaries reported a net profit attributable to owners of the Bank for the first quarter of 2026 of Baht 10,994 million, increasing from the previous quarter, driven by the Bank's diversified sources of income. Non-interest income increased due to higher net gains on investments and dividend income, while net interest income declined following interest rate reductions. Operating expenses decreased due to seasonal expenses as well as effective cost management. Meanwhile, the Bank set aside reserves to accommodate future uncertainties, in line with its prudent approach.

Compared to the first quarter of 2025, net profit attributable to owners of the Bank declined due to lower operating income. Net interest income decreased following interest rate reductions, while non-interest income was lower as a result of reduced gains on investments and net fees and service income mainly from loan related fees. Operating expenses declined, as the Bank continues to place emphasis on ongoing operational efficiency enhancement alongside appropriate cost management. Expected credit losses were maintained at a level comparable to that of the same quarter last year.

Net Interest Income

Net interest income for the first quarter of 2026 amounted to Baht 27,976 million, declining from both the previous quarter and the same quarter last year following the Bank's interest rate reductions. The net interest margin stood at 2.49 percent, reflecting a decrease in the yield on earning assets, offset by a gradual reduction in funding costs.

Expected Credit Losses

In the first quarter of 2026, the Bank's expected credit losses amounted to Baht 9,003 million, increasing from the previous quarter. The increase reflected the Bank's continued prudent provisioning approach, taking into consideration risk factors arising from an economic environment that remained under pressure from the global economic slowdown, geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, as well as the U.S. trade policies, which could potentially result in new forms of retaliatory tariffs. At the same time, the domestic economy continued to face structural constraints, particularly with household consumption remaining subdued amid elevated household debt levels, alongside additional pressures from rising energy prices.

Capital Reserves and Capital Adequacy Ratio

Under the principles of Basel III, the Bank of Thailand (BOT) currently requires commercial banks registered in Thailand and members of their financial groups to maintain minimum levels of capital adequacy as measured by three ratios: the Common Equity Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio at no less than 4.50 percent, the Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio at no less than 6.00 percent, and the Total Capital Adequacy ratio at no less than 8.50 percent – measured as a percentage of total risk-weighted assets. The BOT also requires a capital conservation buffer of more than 2.50 percent. Since the Bank is classified by the BOT as a Domestic Systemically Important Bank (D-SIB), it must have an additional Common Equity Tier 1 ratio at 1.00 percent for Higher Loss Absorbency (HLA). Consequently, the Bank is required to maintain the Common Equity Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio at more than 8.00 percent, the Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio at more than 9.50 percent, and the total capital adequacy ratio at more than 12.00 percent – measured as percentages of total risk-weighted assets.

As of March 31, 2026, the Bank's Common Equity Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio was 16.4 percent, the Tier 1 capital adequacy ratio was 16.4 percent, and the total capital adequacy ratio was 20.9 percent, which was above the BOT's minimum capital requirements.
